IWMA held its annual Conference in Istanbul

Hamburg, 28th October 2014. The 14th International Water Mist Conference took place in Istanbul, Turkey, from 22nd to 23rd October at the Lütfi Kırdar ICEC. In all 93 delegates from 21 nations attended this event. Delegates came from – amongst others – Norway, Italy, Australia, South Africa, Egypt, Iran and the US. The Turkish delegation accounted for 17,2 % of all delegates.

Day one was “Applications Day”. Alan Brinson (European Fire Sprinkler Network) gave the keynote speech and asked: “How does Water Mist fit into the Water-Based Fire-Fighting World?” A panel discussion entitled “The Future of Water Mist – Where lay the Boundaries? Are there any?” completed the day.

Highlight on day two (“Research & Testing Day”) was the speech given by IFAB’s Rajko Rothe who presented the results of step one of the IWMA research project. The title of that project is “Water Mist – an alternate Solution to Sprinkler in Building Fire Protection”. Aim of step one was to compile all existing test procedures, including corresponding pass fail criteria.

In all 19 speakers gave 18 presentations during the conference. All these presentations are available on the IWMA webpage.
