18th International Water Mist Conference – Event Page online now

Hamburg, 14th May 2018. The conference webpage for the 18th International Water Mist Conference (IWMC) is now online! The event will take place in London, UK, on 19th and 20th September 2018. Venue will be the Grange City Hotel near the Tower of London.

For easy access, a link will guide delegates from the IWMA homepage to the IWMC conference site. Attendees, speakers and sponsors may now register for the conference.

During the early bird period – which will end on 16th July – IWMA offers reduced conference fees. There are special offers for students as well as supporting organizations.

Apart from that, participants as well as exhibitors will find all information they need to travel to the conference venue, to book accommodation and to ship their goods. There is also an overview with general information about the event available.

The IWMC programme will be available via the conference webpage from early July onwards.
